 - b) for this purpose of processing, the Administrator is likely to already have personal data at their disposal;
 - c) the provision of other personal data may, however, be a statutory requirement resulting from a dispute, but this will depend on the specific situation;

- 3) to carry out direct marketing of the Administrator's products and services, including by informing about the holding of the Event (as part of materials documenting the holding of the Event containing an image of the Event's Participants, published on the Administrator's websites or on the Administrator's social media profiles);
 - a) the legal basis for processing will be Article 6(1)(f) of GDPR, as direct marketing of the Administrator's products and services is its legitimate interest;
 - b) the provision of personal data for this purpose of processing is voluntary;
- 4) to respond to queries or correspondence addressed to the Administrator, which is a legitimate interest of the Administrator - on the basis of Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR;
 - a) the legal basis for processing will be Article 6(1)(f) of GDPR;
 - b) the provision of personal data for this purpose of processing is voluntary;
 - c) if the personal data is not provided, the Administrator will not be able to contact the person concerned.

4. Source of personal data

Administrator could obtain personal data:

- 1) directly from the person to whom the data relates;
- 2) from the representative of the person to whom the data relates or the entity with which this person is related to (e.g. their employer);
- 3) Central Register and Information on Business Activity or other publicly available sources.

5. Recipients of data

The Administrator may share personal data with recipients who process data on behalf of the Administrator or process personal data as separate, independent controllers.

The Administrator shall make personal data available to recipients in accordance with applicable laws, for example, based on data processing entrustment agreements.

The Administrator may share personal data with its subcontractors (entities it uses for processing) such as:

- 1) providers of services such as email, virtual disk and office applications;
- 2) marketing service providers;
